Dear Residents

How lovely to have sunshine!

Lets hope that the beautiful blues skies and the warmer weather are here to stay. It will help the Nature team tremendously as they continue to maintain areas in the estate.

Maintenance

Currently the team have been in Sawgrass removing Water Hyacinth which seems to be an ongoing project, also rehabilitating and fixing paths in the Nature Areas. Our nature areas always keep the team busy!

You may have seen an Oak tree being removed near Archwood Village recently, this tree unfortunately had died and had to be removed by the estate.

Please remember that only the DHA/ Nature Association are allowed to remove trees that are outside your property, unless you have approval.

Birds and Beasties

Geraldine spotted the Leucistic guinea fowls (above) again on her walks, Geraldine seems to have the knack of finding intriguing creatures.

A resident spotted two beautiful Porcupines crossing the road at night. Lovely to see a pair together. Hopefully we will see some offspring. Please drive carefully as our creatures wonder around at night.

Well done to Helen Bradly for spotting a Crimson Breasted Shrike (above right), this is a very good sighting says our bird expert André as they are quite a rare find.

Seemed to have just crossed Helens path whilst out driving on her golf cart at the right time.

DNA Trophy

There must be someone out there who is worthy of the Dainfern Nature Association Trophy. This beautiful trophy of a Paradise Bird Catcher stands at the front entrance of the clubhouse and is awarded to someone who has done something outstanding to enhance or preserve the fauna or flora or assist and protect our wildlife on the estate.

The last award was last year when Tony and Tricia Border were awarded for 20 years' service on the DNA committee. Tony wrote the "On the Stoep" newsletter each month and educated us with his interesting stories and Tricia was the DNA secretary for sometime.

CHAMELEON VILLAGE REPTILE PARK!

Once again our Chameleon Village Reptile display held at the clubhouse was a great success! Many thanks to all who came to support and learn about our indigenous reptiles - and a couple of exotic species. It was a particular busy Saturday afternoon for Six33!

It's always a popular event and it's good to see everyone taking such a keen interest. For anyone who arrived late or was unable to attend, Chameleon Village at Hartbeespoort has regular shows on weekends.

Bird walk feedback

Andre and some residents braved the cold recently and how worth it, it was? Over 30 species were spotted.

Thank you Andre for your time.

DAINFERN By Mr Peet Trollip

Interim General Manager's Report

May has been a busy month on our Estate. We had a wonderful Mother's Day celebration at the clubhouse and even though the weather was cold and rainy, there were smiles all around as families celebrated this special day with their moms.

Reptile Talk

The Dainfern Nature Association hosted the Chameleon Village Reptile Park visit and both young and old were enthralled by the creepies and crawlies that were shown and discussed. It was a wonderfully entertaining and educational morning attended by many residents and their families. Everybody learned something new on the day.

Ladies Club Champs

Tuesday 17 and Wednesday 18 May saw the ladies competing for the Ladies Club Champ of 2022. The winner is Tylah James – congratulations. The course was in great condition, and we had 37 ladies playing for the Championship. Thanks go to all the participants for their support, the sponsors for their generosity as well as the whole golf team for ensuring that these two days ran extremely smoothly.

Bird Walk

André Marx hosted an incredible bird walk on Saturday 21 May, and we had a lovely turnout of avid bird watchers. Thank you to the Dainfern

Nature Association for arranging this event and to André for sharing his wealth of knowledge.

Domestic Workers Forum

We held a Domestic Workers Forum on Tuesday 24 May at the Pavilion arranged by Douglasdale SAPS and CPF (Community Policing Forum). This was an opportunity to upskill our domestic staff in first aid, fire prevention, reporting of crimes, safety and security tips, as well as guidelines around the walking of dogs on the Estate. Refreshments were served to all attendees.

Going Forward

June is looking exciting with our launch of the FANTASTIC FRIDAZE on Friday 3 June and our Youth Market on 16 June at the Pavilion.

As wonderful as it is to start having more and more events on the Estate, we are cognisant of the fact that Covid numbers are extremely high in this fifth wave. We ask residents to still be cautious and hold online meetings (if possible), keep physically distanced, wash your hands often and continue with the wearing of masks – for the safety of everybody.

LEGAL MATTERS

Written by: Tammy May
(Attorney and Conveyancer)

Trusts

A trust exists where property (movable and immovable) is held by the trustees, on behalf of and for the benefit of another person, the beneficiary/beneficiaries. The duty is placed on the trustees to administer the trust property according to the "trust instrument". The "trust instrument" refers to a written agreement or a testamentary writing or a court order according to which a trust was created. The trustees therefore act in an official capacity to keep and apply the trust property in favour of the beneficiaries.

In South Africa, a minor cannot directly receive assets. A Testator (in other words a person creating their will), can create a Trust to safeguard the assets in a trust for the benefit of a minor. There are two types of trusts for the purpose of benefitting minors; An Inter Vivos Trust, and a Testamentary Trust.

An Inter Vivos Trust is an instrument in terms whereof a trustee, hold or manages assets on behalf of one or more beneficiary. It is created by way of a contract by the founder during his/her lifetime in favour of the nominated beneficiaries. This contract is known as a trust deed, and the founder will stipulate who the initial trustees and beneficiaries are and set out the purpose and objectives of the trust. The main purpose of an Inter Vivos Trust, is to protect the founder's assets, whether personal or business. The beneficiaries may be any person or entity, they need not possess any legal capacity and can include descendants who have not been born at the time of the creation of the trust.

A Testamentary Trust is another way of creating a trust. It is created by the testator in his/her Last Will and Testament to be held and administered in favour of the nominated beneficiaries. The trust only comes into operation on the death of the testator. The founder of the trust will therefore be the Testator or Testatrix of the Last Will and Testament. The Last Will and Testament therefore forms the basis of the trust document. The main purpose of a Testamentary Trust is to protect the inheritance of minors or vulnerable members of the family. The inheritance and assets will be kept safe from being misused and will be used for the benefit of the minor beneficiary. The trust will only come into existence after the passing of the Testator, and the inheritance will be transferred to the trust once the winding up of the deceased estate has been completed. The assets can only be held in trust until such age as determined in the Last Will and Testament. Once the minor beneficiary attains the age as stipulated in the Last Will and testament, the assets will be transferred to the beneficiary and the trust will come to an end.

The Guardian Fund was created to receive and manage money on behalf of persons who are legally incapable or do not have the capacity to manage their own affairs, such as minors. Where the funds are held by the Guardian Fund, it will be transferred when the heir attains the age of 18 and only if it is claimed by the beneficiary. Should the beneficiary fail to claim the funds for a period of 30 years, it will be forfeited to the state. Therefore, when comparing a Testamentary Trust and the Guardian's fund, it is quite obvious that the creation of a trust for the protection of a minor beneficiary's inheritance or other assets, is a better option.

ACTS OF KINDNESS NEVER DIE - Lord Jonathan Sacks

With all the uncertainty in the world right now, people are feeling insecure and unsure of their future. Selling the family home can be very traumatic for some people and relocating is very stressful. We have seen many sellers moving to the coast and to other countries over the past 3 years. We have also seen families divided as one member of the family works offshore until the home is sold and the family can join them again. We have tried to make this easier for families by being focused on speed if there is urgency, lending a helping hand with maintenance until transfer, and generally being sensitive to the different situations. We care. We would love to connect with you if you are selling or renting your home. Please give us a call! We have sold very well in the area and will continue to deliver a smooth transaction for our clients.

Century Property Developments making waves in Riversands with the FINAL PHASE of Riversands Outlet Park

It is a well-known fact that Riversands has been bubbling under the surface for some time now. Development of the surrounding areas has been welcomed by the market, and constant and consistent upgrades to roads and services continue to add credence to Riversands becoming a commanding business district as well as a sought-after neighbourhood to live in.

Some years ago, Century Property Developments took a long-term view of the Riversands area, formulating a plan over time that would provide the market with exactly what it needed at the right time; a district that is already redefining commercial parks in Southern Africa. Developed to be a secure complex, Riversands offers a variety of commercial precincts allowing for light industrial spaces; warehousing; storage; showrooms; retail centres; commercial office space; schools; outdoor recreational spaces; as well as residential lifestyle apartments – all spanning over 237,406 hectares.

Riversands attracted the attention of retail giant Makro, who in 2017 opened their incredible Riversands branch. Massmart soon joined in, and in 2020 opened an impressive 75,000m² Distribution Centre. The Riversands Incubation Hub continues its quest in the development of the local entrepreneurial community with incredible results which remains a critical strategic imperative of the plans for this area – to uplift the local communities while providing world-leading property solutions to the market.

Riversands Outlet Park consists of several showrooms coupled with warehousing – and what a statement Century Property Developments is making. Premium offices, showrooms, warehouses and light industrial spaces was made available from mid-2019 to clients looking to make an iconic brand statement and find the ideal home for their business. Phase 1 is almost completely tenanted at an impressive 95% occupancy rate, with a massive demand for the next (and final phase) to be released. Phase two is currently under construction, with several leases already in the pipeline.

Riversands Outlet Park serves as the architectural benchmark for the area, and the bar is not being set low. These premises tick all the boxes in terms of accessibility, visibility, technology and security! Tenants were able to choose from completed spec offices as well as customise their own tenant installation to suit their specific needs.

Once complete, Riversands Outlet Park will have in excess of 50,000m² of lettable space under roof. Designed to bridge the gap between light industrial and showroom spaces, Riversands Outlet Park offers it all. Units provide tenants with the perfect mix of warehousing, manufacturing, showroom and office space – it all depends on the tenant's needs. The 48 units in phase 2 range from 160m² right up to 4,300m². These units are leased at R72.50 per square meter, with flexible short-term leases also available.

Being a brand-new development, Riversands Outlet Park gave Century Property Developments the opportunity to design and plan this business park with a strong focus on creating a state-of-the-art facility in all respects of the phrase. From the best in security services and technologies, to green building technologies and energy saving process, Riversands Outlet Park is set to lead the way in defining a new-age business park. In addition to making use of green business technologies, Riversands is situated in an Eskom power supply area. This means that electricity is vastly cheaper than in other municipal areas, drastically reducing the operating costs of the business operating within it.

Century Property Developments welcomes an opportunity to discuss your business premises and its requirements. Our team will assist you in securing property that not only supports your business, but also adds value to it.

For more information on Riversands Outlet Park, contact Jessica on 066 477 8955, email on jessica@century.co.za or visit www.century.co.za

BAGS OF ♥ Community Outreach in the Dainfern Community

Once again, May was an awesome month with incredibly generous donations coming in. There has been a sharp increase in the number of requests for food from various communities. There are a lot of hungry mouths out there, so we need to step up our donations of food, particularly non-perishables. Sadly, this is "shack fire season" once again and we have supplied household goods and food for three such causes this month.

We received and distributed 30 beautiful new jackets, 25 beanies, 20 scarves and 45 blankets, 80 bottles of flu meds for children (a request from a community in Limpopo which we support), 13 children's chairs, 18 wash tubs, a Zimmer-frame walker, 10 bags of children's toys (new and gently used), 18 bags of clothing for men, women and children, pillows, duvets and sheets, theatrical costumes, water bottles, eco-bricks, stationery, cutlery & pans, soup mixes, sandwiches, hard boiled eggs, fruit...and much more!!

THE MADD LADIES DO IT AGAIN!

The MADD (Making a Difference in Dainfern) team held another MADD About Cooking event in which 20 lucky ladies attended an interactive Asian Fusion theme cooking demonstration.

A stunning, fun time with great prizes and delicious food was had by all in beautiful surroundings!

Proceeds again went to the children of Thabo Mbeki informal settlement.

On Wednesday 18th May, Dainfern Connect hosted an inspiring evening at the Clubhouse for teens within Dainfern as well as from neighbouring Diepsloot community. The theme was "Follow Your Dreams" and the evening kicked off with a talk by iconic South African singer-songwriter, Apple Gule. This was followed by an insightful address by psychologist Sharon Boyce about the importance of mental health and how it is inextricably linked to creating the life you wish for. We were also treated to impromptu addresses by Dr Natalie Cordeiro Thinkwell Puhle Moyo and Bongile Mkhumbeni, founder of 1000 Circles.

Thanks to our generous events sponsor Bitalian and to Six 33 for delicious catering!

Watch out for our next event in June!

Sponsored by BITALIAN

Dainfern Connect's focus is to bring about methods and systems to promote mental health amongst our teens. Adolescents face incredible challenges - more so today than ever before - due to numerous external and internal circumstances and influences. We aim to provide support systems to enhance harmonious relationships between themselves, families, peers and everyone they interact with.

Each month we will feature inspiring events/speakers on all topics relating to living a successful, meaningful, happy life and we thank our generous sponsors, Bitalian for their ongoing support.

Each week we provide Youth Circles (by the founder of 1000 Circles) held at 11h30 at the Clubhouse. These provide a safe, confidential environment in which our youth can discuss life openly. These sessions (including lunch) are kindly sponsored by Brenthurst Wealth and therefore at no cost to parents. Should further intervention be requested by participants (or recommended) we have a pool of experts on board who we can recommend for ongoing therapy.

Towards the end of June, we are starting up a group for parents of teens (on an ongoing basis) who can get together in an informal environment to discuss the challenges/joys/fears/suggestions and advice surrounding the raising of teens. At times these will include experts on various topics of mental health).

Those interested in joining such sessions may contact me (Susan Harwood) via WhatsApp on 083 228 2546.

Dr Natalie Cordeiro offers one-on-one therapy to teens relating to self-esteem, Mon-Thurs at 4.30pm at her rooms in Mulberry Hill on Broadacres Drive. To book an appointment, WhatsApp her on 082 374 9530.

Sisters for Mental Health

It was a day filled with warmth, positive interaction and joyous connection when like-minded ladies gathered at Dainfern Golf Estate for our inaugural mental health brunch.

Our theme was 'Reaching out: Normalising struggle and seeking help'. The reason for this theme was to encourage people to realise that struggle is part of the human experience and that seeking help is a sign of strength and bravery as opposed to weakness.

Dr Samke J Ngcobo

With the high disease burden of mental illness and the crisis of increased suicide rates, the theme of this event could not have come at a better time.

All of our Sisters For Mental Health gatherings seek to create a safe space which enables the ladies who attend to feel safe to be vulnerable and comfortable to connect with fellow sisters who are aligned with their journey.

In this event, we had speakers who are involved in mental health advocacy such as clinical psychologist Kelebogile Mojanaga, mental health advocate Lerato Solomon, Author Luyanada Thela and Marlene Bandekele who delivered a powerfully emotive poem about mental health struggles.

One of the important aspects in our purpose, is to provide psycho-education in order to empower the guests with some take-home lessons and equip them with tools to improve their mental health.

Another cornerstone to our interactions, is to gather in environments which are conducive to connection and avoid the sombre perceptions which often plague the conversation related to mental health and things associated with mental illness.

We are so grateful to all the people who contributed in making this incredible day the success that it was!

We look forward to furthering the cause and conversation related to mental health advocacy and mental health education.

Chiropractic

A non-surgical hands-on approach

Chiropractic is the third largest health care profession in the world after medicine and dentistry.

A Chiropractor (Doctor of Chiropractic) is a medical professional who is trained to diagnose and treat disorders of the spine and joints. In South Africa Chiropractors study for six years and treat patients of all ages including adults, children and infants. Chiropractors use a natural, drug free approach to health and pain management.

Conditions commonly managed include neck and back pain, headaches, sciatica, slipped discs, postural issues and sports injuries. Chiropractors believe in a conservative (non-surgical) hands-on approach to treating these conditions.

A visit to a Chiropractor includes a medical history, physical and neurological examination and other tests, such as X-rays and posture scans.

After a diagnosis is made, the chiropractor recommends a treatment plan. Although hands-on adjustments of the joints is central to chiropractic, treatment also focuses on a holistic approach and whole-body health.

The Foundation of Chiropractic is that the body has an internal ability to heal and manage itself. The brain, spinal cord and nerves are responsible for maintaining this function. If there is injury, trauma or abnormal functioning of the spine at a particular level, this leads to poor communication between the brain, spinal cord and nerves often resulting in pain, discomfort and potentially chronic problems.

Research shows that Chiropractic adjustments can make changes to the nervous system and the way the brain "sees" the rest of the body. Adjusting the spine to restore spinal function actually changes the way the brain functions, which has been shown to increase the strength of muscles and reduce muscle fatigue.

Many of the worlds best athletes have discovered the benefits of using Chiropractic care for performance and include Usain Bolt, Michael Jordan, Tom Brady, Michael Phelps and Arnold Schwarzenegger.

TEACHING TECH IN THE JUNIOR PREP

For the past 25 years Dainfern College has been at the forefront of innovative teaching, deeply committed to equipping students with all the skills needed to thrive in a 21st Century environment. It is thus no surprise that Dainfern College was the first school in Africa to be recognised as a Google Reference School, due to its outstanding use of technology to drive positive learning outcomes.

Dainfern College was the first school in South Africa to incorporate the Mighty Minds curriculum into its offering, opening a Creativity Centre in 2000 built around the Lego Dacta education kits. This innovative way of teaching robotics and technology soon paid dividends but staff realised that technology needed to be incorporated across the curriculum, rather than taught as a single learning area. Again, the College led from the front, introducing iPads as classroom teaching and learning tools in 2010 and instituting a Bring Your Own Device policy in 2013 to ensure students could access the wide array of online resources for teachers and children.

With technology now an integral part of every learning area as well as our everyday lives, Dainfern College ensures that each student is given a strong foundation of technical skills and competencies right from Grade 0. Technology teaching in the Junior Preparatory at Dainfern College is thus intentionally broken into six strands:

DefineIT: The basics of using computers & the Internet

Access to a mix of iPads and Chromebooks ensures that students are not learning skills in a vacuum but are able to transfer these skills across devices and platforms. The Google Workspace for Education suite of products is used, alongside educational resources like Purple Mash, Soundtrap and Bookcreator, to ensure that students are agile enough to adapt their learning to suit new environments.

DeduceIT: Analytical & innovative thinking skills

Drones and robots such as Coderpillar, Botley and Maze Blocks are used by students to work their way through their thinking. Problem solving is enhanced through the use of inquiry-based learning, where students find answers to their own questions, strongly supported by technology and research.

DigitiseIT: Information storage & access to information

From Grade 2 students start to use Google Drive as a way to store and share information and work, alongside the work management platform, Google Classroom. They learn how to organise and then submit work, how to see their teacher's feedback and then how to share these artefacts with their parents and family by email and direct links.

DebateIT: Communication, collaboration & discussion

Children are encouraged to listen to each other carefully, understand different points of view and, if they feel it is necessary, respectfully disagree and add their own thoughts to the discussion. Technologies such as the video-based feedback platform, Flipgrid, and text-based platform Padlet, allow every student to have a voice in every discussion.

DeliberateIT: Digital citizenship for global citizenship

Students are taught safety and security through the learning of responsible behaviours online using products like Interland by Google and Commonsense Edu. Children are encouraged to take responsibility for their behaviour online, with a strong focus on being kind.

DecipherIT: Coding & computer programming

Coding at Dainfern College starts with body coding in Grade 0 before starting to experience robotics activities. The Grade 3s use Purple Mash or Scratch to learn block code and the pattern of coding loops and functions. Every student from Grade 0 to 3 spends time using the different coding platforms.

A Tech Hub is currently being planned for the Junior Preparatory to reinforce current learning and create more opportunities for students to create with and use technology such as 3D printing, laser cutting and robots. This space, and the larger 'Makerspace' being developed around the College Media Centre, will give all students at Dainfern College further access to the latest technological resources to ensure that they leave school with all the skills needed to be true citizens of the world.

To learn more about integrating technology into your children's learning, contact Mr Anthony Egbers at aegbers@dainferncollege.co.za or email enrol@dainferncollege.co.za to arrange a visit to the school.

The future of money – part 15

The collapse of a cryptocurrency

By Kreaan Singh

The cryptocurrency market has seen a tumultuous past few months. Since November last year, Bitcoin has more than halved in US $ value, and other cryptocurrencies have seen far bigger declines. While the crypto market may be reeling, it is not that far disconnected from other markets. Russia's invasion of Ukraine has devastated global trade and left many nations on the verge of economic recession. Fuel prices are skyrocketing and stock markets are pointing downward. Netflix, arguably one of the biggest beneficiaries of Covid-19 and free paychecks from the US government, has seen its share price drop even more than Bitcoin has.

But, it's important to understand that cryptocurrency technology has been here before and continues to develop at a staggering rate...

The cryptocurrency market is simply doing what markets do - there are ups, and then there are downs. When the bad times come, there will always be casualties. LUNA is such an example.

What is LUNA?

Terra is a blockchain network that many expected to become a serious contender to others in its class, like Ethereum. The growth of its cryptocurrency, LUNA, from less than $0.5 in 2020 to $100 just a year later saw many investors making life-changing money. LUNA became one of the top 10 cryptocurrencies and grew a massive community of investors and companies. But, on 7 May 2022, the network began to collapse. Within 1 week, the price of LUNA had dropped to virtually $0, and million-dollar investments effectively became worth nothing. This further weakened an already decreasing crypto market, with Bitcoin dropping about 25% at the same time.

How did LUNA collapse?

The Terra blockchain is designed in such a way that digital tokens can be created on it. One such token, UST, was created to act as a cryptocurrency always equal to $1. UST is called a stablecoin, and many other blockchains like Ethereum and BNB have their own stablecoins. While most stablecoins require the issuer to actually have dollars in a bank account to back each token up, UST was designed to maintain its $1 value through an algorithm. This algorithm created or destroyed LUNA and UST based on supply and demand, and always tried to achieve a balance so that 1 UST = $1. The problem with algorithms is they can be manipulated. In May, this was believed to have happened, causing UST to lose its peg. The effect was the creation of trillions of LUNA tokens, effectively causing a gigantic over-supply and completely destroying the value of the cryptocurrency.

What are the lessons?

Terra was an incredibly well-marketed project during the last cryptocurrency "hype" cycle that blindsided many investors with inflated price predictions. In many respects though, it was a good implementation of blockchain technology. What caused the failure of Terra was overconfidence and inaction by its creators to prevent manipulation of a known flaw. As an investor, one should always look beyond the hype, remove emotion, educate oneself and only risk what you are able to lose.

Conclusion

This event has left a stain on the development of cryptocurrencies and has sadly destroyed thousands of lives. But, it's important to understand that cryptocurrency technology has been here before and continues to develop at a staggering rate. One bad egg doesn't ruin the basket. Some people may once again analyze this as the death of cryptocurrencies, but with numerous countries now considering declaring Bitcoin as legal tender and many of the top 500 companies investing in NFTs, this seems highly unlikely.

Crimson-breasted Shrike

Laniarius atrococcineus

Singles and pairs forage alone or sometimes in mixed-species flocks in dry thornveld and dense tangles, where they prefer foraging on thicker trunks but will also forage on the open ground. Calls are variable, but mostly comprise a range of loud ringing whistles answered by electric buzzing and grating notes. When on the ground the bird displays a characteristic upright posture with wingtips held pointing down. They eat invertebrates such as caterpillars, beetles, and ants, as well as small fruits, hopping about and flicking bits of vegetation aside, much like a thrush.

As a monogamous species, the Crimson-breasted Shrike breeds from Sep-Apr with the peak in early summer. The nest is built by both sexes and is a neat cup made mostly of strips of bark collected from the inside of acacia trees, and is lined with rootlets and grasses. 2-3 eggs are laid and are incubated for 15-17 days and the chicks will be fledged at 18-20 days.

It is interesting to observe that this species appears to move into suburban areas primarily in the winter months when food availability may be scarcer in bushveld areas. It has been recorded on a few occasions in the estate over the years but is very seldom seen, so its reoccurrence recently is quite special.

This is a widespread species that is common in parts of South Africa. It is uncommon in suburban areas, however with the move to more indigenous gardening in estates like Dainfern we are seeing patches of woodland that sometimes have large thornveld tree species and these are helping to create habitat corridors for these birds to colonise. Long may this beautiful bird continue to find our estate to its liking!

One does not associate Dainfern with a thornveld specialist like the Crimson-breasted Shrike. Although I have had the pleasure of observing this beautiful bird on many occasions, I have never viewed it in our estate. However, it was seen and photographed recently by a resident and it forms the subject of this month's bird of the month. The crimson underparts and the white wingbar on the black upperparts make this bird unmistakable. It is one of the special sights to behold in a bushveld environment.

Bee Eaters - male birds mating dance

Roy Lailvaux took this lovely photograph in Pilanesberg Game Reserve. This picture is unique as birds hate to be touched yet all species of bee eaters can often be seen Rhuddlings together. On cold days even closer as they seem to enjoy each others warmth.

Many years ago I went to a lecture where it was said that a male birds behaviour when trying to impress a female can often be traced back to the contrast between its desire to mate and its fear to be touched.

Thus a male birds mating dance is a combination of approach and withdrawal. Sometimes in a zig zag pattern and other times a straight forward approach and withdrawal. I tried to find more about this on Internet but although there were many descriptions of different male birds trying to impress a female I could find no trace of this theory.

Male Maccao Dusk

The male Maccao Duck which was quite common in our area some time ago would swim towards a female and then reverses almost immediately. Very funny to see a duck swimming backwards. When ever I saw that I thought of this theory but it seems to have fallen by the wayside.

Social Spiders

Quite often seen in Dainfern are the nests of the Social Spiders. They are normally found in trees and sometimes on barbed wire fences. They have numerous holes and passages through which spiders enter and leave. There are some catching nets outside the nest and some birds like to gather these webs to build their own nests.

"The more clearly we can focus our attention on the wonders and realities of the universe about us, the less taste we shall have for destruction."

Rachel Carson

Long Jawed Water Spider

But talking about spiders. A few years ago I built a fish pond in my garden and just one day after the water had been put in I noticed this Long Jawed Water Spider had built its web across the pond. Now where on earth did this come from? Lyall Watson in his book "Heavens Breath" talks about tiny spiders hatching from eggs, spinning one line of silk and the wind takes them miles away from where they were born. Some will land in a place where they will survive and others will simply die. Apparently some have actually been found in places like the top of Mount Everest and other unbelievable areas.

It is possible that my Water Spider could have been brought by the wind and the timing was just right when I built my Fish Pond.

GARDENING

Turfnet • 073 935 9754 / 011 469 5051/4

General Gardening Tips

- Plant out winter flowering annuals (Pansies, Viola, Dianthus, Calendulas, Petunias, Primulas).
- Plant ilium's and treated tulips.
- As bulbs come up, keep them well watered and feed with a general organic fertiliser (2:3:2) once a fortnight.
- Cut back dahlias, lift the tubers and store in a cool, dry place.
- Tie sweet peas to their stakes and water well.
- Start preparing for winter protection where heavy frost is experienced (Frost cover). Mulch plants to protect the roots from frost.
- It is a good time to order bare-rooted fruit trees, vines and roses for planting in July.
- Put out bait amongst fruit trees for fruit fly.
- Prepare trenches for planting of asparagus.
- Stop feeding roses to prevent lush young growth from appearing, as they should harden off for winter.
- Protect young and tender plants from cold winds.
- Water the lawn once a month and stop fertilisation until spring.
- Water azaleas, camellias, and shrubs once a week.
- Water fruit trees, vines, and berries well once every three weeks.
- Plant ranunculus bulbs.
- Sow vegetables like broad beans, lettuces, peas, radishes, and turnips.
- Remove the soil from your old flowerpots and replace it with new potting mix and replant with new plants. This is necessary as the nutrients in the soil gets leached out and the plants get root bound in the pots.
- Pinch off faded flowers from Iceland poppies, calendulas, violas, and pansies to encourage further flowers.
- Foliar feed all existing annuals and bulbs fortnightly or use organic compost before the cold weather sets in.
- Cover sensitive plants in colder regions with lightweight, frost cover, hessian, straw, or cardboard boxes.
- Lay down thick mulch or contour compost around the frost susceptible plants to insulate the roots.
- Clean up under hedges, clean out gutters and drains, rake up fallen leaf litter and other debris, loosen the soil to expose insect pests which may be sheltering there.

The Bull Frog

Pyxicephalus adspersus

The African Bullfrog (Pyxicephalus adspersus) is one of the largest frogs in Africa.

Adult males may reach 23cm or more and may weigh over two kilograms. Females are much smaller, whereas in nearly all other species of frogs, the female is larger than the male.

Have you been lucky enough to hear the Bull Frogs in the estate?

The African bullfrog is found mostly in open grasslands and at low elevations in the sub-Saharan African countries of Nigeria, Somalia, lower Sudan, Tanzania, Kenya, Malawi, Zambia, Angola, Mozambique, Zimbabwe and South Africa (except for the south-western Cape).

The frogs have rounded bodies with broad heads and have dark olive-green skin on the back with a cream or orange-coloured under-carriage, which it uses to camouflage itself. Adult frogs are very aggressive and inflate themselves when provoked.

Male bullfrogs have a bright yellow throat while the throat of the female is cream colour. It is not unusual for African bullfrogs to live for 35 years or more.

Their camouflage allows them to blend into the environment while waiting for prey, which can consist of various insects, amphibians, small reptiles and mammals. They are known to bite inquisitive humans using tooth-like projections on their lower jaw.

In extreme cases of food scarcity or overpopulation, they even resort to cannibalism.

They aestivate during the dry season but come up to the surface to spawn after the first rains. The period of aestivation is around eight months, though some experts claim that they can remain underground for more than five years.

Natural predators of the tadpoles and juvenile frogs are mostly waterfowl, other terrestrial birds and snakes, while herons, other large birds and jackals prey on the adult frogs.

The females lay 3000 to 4000 eggs in shallow waters and these usually hatch around two days later. However, survival rates of these frogs are thought to be very low.

The African bullfrog, however, is a protected species and trading in them is prohibited, according to Craig Whittington-Jones, a scientist at the Department of Agriculture, Conservation, Environment and Land Affairs in Gauteng.
