Dear Residents

Maintenance during the Winter months

Winter season is nature catch up time, getting to all of those areas which were neglected in the busy rainy season, there is a lot to do!

It is the time to thin out the dead wood, lift trees, and catch up with weeds, clean ups, repairing damaged areas and cutting back grasslands, ready for the new growth in the Spring.

Saw Grass Dams

During the last couple of months, we have been full time removing the water Hyacinth from the Saw Grass Dams. Our team carefully watching out for any birds which may be nesting in these areas.

Grasslands

Huge areas of grasslands have started to be cut in the different areas, the Moribund has also been removed and invasives pulled out. The brush cutters are now very experienced at leaving pockets of grass cover, for the wondering Guinea fowl which like heading into the Montague/Bentwood area for shelter in the late winter afternoons.

Wetlands

We continue with chip bark in the Wetlands area which is coming along nicely and the dams in that area have all been cleaned up.

Spectacular Aloes

Nature Trails

The beautiful Nature trails are continuously being maintained. Its worth taking a walk and seeing the beauty that these trails offer.

The Nature Association started to create these over 15 years ago and are really a wonderful thing to have within an estate. Look out for the printed Estate Booklet coming out soon which will have a map and details on these lovely trails.

The Nature Association work behind the scenes but they are group of dedicated people who maintain, enhance the estate and rely on proceeds from the Dainfern Online Digital magazine, so please keep supporting the advertisers who make this possible.

Animals in Distress: Please give a thought for the animals this winter. There are many charities that are in need of support. Dog Trust has a drop off at Lils café at the Dainfern Valley Shopping centre. Food, blankets anything is welcome!

In Focus Cover Photographic Competition

We invite all residents to enter into the Dainfern In Focus front cover photographic competition.

Please submit your photographs of landscape / wildlife or something of beauty from within the estate to cobbie@global.co.za

Winning photos will be placed on the cover for one month. Other entries that do not make the front cover will be used within the magazine.

Interest rates are on the move with an upward trend. The experts say that this will not significantly impact our target market. However, with a rise in petrol, inflation, and rapidly rising interest rates, I don't think this is an easy time for many families. There has been a slight "tap off" on volume of sales over the last 2 months and I think a lot of this is due to "uncertainty" in the markets. This may be attributed to a number of factors, including financial security and, the global picture is also not looking good. The share markets have sharply declined and we are left with many people not knowing where to invest next. Property has not given us the desired returns for several years, unless a major renovation has been done. But, property is brick and mortar, and this may offer comfort to investors in these times. Take advantage of the uncertainty and the fact that prices have been static, consider a second property, it will stand the test of time. There is a shortage of rental space currently and this may create further opportunities for you. If you are planning a move we would love to sell your home, please call us to assist you!

HOMEOWNERS ASSOCIATION

Fantastic Fridaze

June started off with a bang as we hosted our first Fantastic Fridaze event after Covid. There was great food, awesome live entertainment, drinks were flowing, and winners were chosen! Congratulations to all the winners. The prizes included vouchers from SIX33 (Nicci Humphries), a bottle of Bellingham (Terence Clarkson) and the lucky draw winner (Nicholas Musgrove) received a total of R10 300. Don't miss out on the next one - it is on the first Friday of EVERY month.

Clock Unveiled

We unveiled our clock on top of the Gary Player Tribute on 3 June 2022. We thank the following sponsors for their generosity –

- Theo and Liz Carastavrakis
- Big 5 Distribution Citizen Printers @ Astro Labels
- John and Gillian Nicholson

Youth Day Market

Our Youth Day Market took place on 16 June at the clubhouse. We had wonderful goods on sale from cupcakes, handbags, watches, crystals, yoga pants, candy floss, children's books, clothing, non-alcoholic pomegranate champagne and much more. Even though it was a cold day, it was very well supported by our residents.

Three hole-in-ones

We have had three hole-in-ones on our 11th hole over a period of two weeks. What an incredible feeling when this happens – congratulations to Bruno Albino, Rob Becker and Robert Skjodt.

Farewell to Tim Steynberg

We bid farewell to Tim Steynberg as he explores new avenues in his golfing career and sincerely thank him for all that he did for us during his tenure, especially over the very difficult Covid period. Dean Kupferman will be taking over from him. Dean currently runs the Pro Shop, and we look forward to having him join our team.

Winter taken its toll

Winter has taken its toll on our golf course and gardens. The frost is visible most mornings as the landscape changes with the seasons. We thank the Nature Association, Golf Data as well as Turfnet for continually ensuring that our golf course, paths, and gardens around the estate are always looking their best.

Mandela Day

Join us at the clubhouse on 18 July to do your 67 minutes for Mandela Day – we are competing with Fourways Gardens and Cedar Lakes and would love to be the Estate that wins the challenge set out for us.

Disclosing Property Defects

Sellers often struggle to comprehend what defects should be disclosed and what should not be disclosed for the sale of their property.

In accordance with the Property Practitioners Act 2019, a mandatory disclosure form came into force on 1 February this year. This means that every estate agent must obtain a property disclosure form from the seller/lessor before accepting a mandate to sell or lease a property.

Types of defects

In terms of the common law, two types of defects are recognized. The first defect is a latent defect that is not visible or obvious to the naked eye upon reasonable inspection. The second defect is a patent defect which is clearly visual.

Every sale agreement will contain a "Voetstoots" clause. This clause will state that the purchaser buys the property from the seller as it stands, regardless of latent and patent defects. The Seller is then indemnified against a claim for damages in respect of any defects to the property. A buyer can sidestep the voetstoots clause if he can prove that the seller at the time of the conclusion of the contract was aware of the existence of the latent defect in the property sold and deliberately concealed the existence of the defect to the purchaser or refrained from informing the purchaser of its existence.

When is the disclosure form completed?

Any defects to the property may affect the price of the property. It is therefore important that all known latent and patent defects are disclosed by the seller to the estate agent upon inspection of the property. Ideally this will be done in the first meeting between the seller and the estate agent when the property valuation is done.

Is there any legal recourse if the seller was indeed aware of a defect and failed to disclose same?

Any allegation made by the purchaser must be proved. If he can prove that the seller was indeed aware of the defect and purposefully failed to disclose it, the purchaser is entitled to recourse from the seller. The remedy available to the purchaser could be financial compensation, repair of the defect by the seller or cancellation of the sale.

In conclusion, the purchaser is responsible to ensure that he familiarizes himself with the property and all the patent defects before an offer is presented to the seller. The mandatory disclosure form should not be regarded as a substitute for due diligence by the purchaser and just because the Seller declared a defect does not mean that he will be obligated to repair it. If the Purchaser wishes for something to be repaired then it must be made a condition of the offer.

Entryway Ideas

The foyer or entrance hall creates the first impression, so make it count.

Make a Statement

Do not hold back. That entrance is the power moment when somebody walks into your home. It can say so much about your personality and design taste.

For that reason, a wall finish that might seem like too much for a living room or bedroom may be ideal in a foyer. It is a place where you can do a bold colour, a lacquer, or a wallpaper for a 'Wow' moment that you might be scared of in a large living room.

An added benefit? Statement-making wall coverings and finishes tend to be expensive, but because foyers are usually small, these products can often be installed without breaking the bank.

Design to Your Routine

With a few key furniture pieces and accessories, you can make your daily arrival and departure sequence a breeze. Typically, it's not a huge space, so you're working with a limited number of pieces. If you're the kind of person who likes to drop everything when you walk in the door, a console table with drawers is great, because it's a nice place to hide your keys and mail. Or, in the absence of drawers, a bowl, tray or other sculptural container can serve as a catchall to help keep things organised.

A bench or a stool or two that slide under the console can provide a place to sit while lacing up shoes while taking up minimal floor space.

Another helpful element is a wall-mounted mirror. It gives you one last chance to check yourself before you walk out the door.

Plan for the Weather

As the first space people enter when coming from outside, the foyer must deal with a lot – rainwater, mud and whatever else Mother Nature decides to deliver. To avoid having these things creep into the rest of the home, you need to deal with them at the front door.

The effort begins even before you cross the threshold. A Mat outside the door, so people can wipe off their feet before even stepping inside.

You can follow up with an indoor-outdoor rug. An umbrella stand not only keeps umbrellas handy, but also prevents wet ones from draining on the floor. Storage bins or baskets, which can be stowed under a console (if the space is not taken by stools, these are all functional pieces that can serve double-duty as decorative elements as well.

Board Communique No. 18

Appointment of new General Manager

Riaan van Rooyen

Peet Trollip

Dear Members and Residents

The Board is delighted to announce the appointment of our new General Manager, Mr Riaan van Rooyen who starts on 1 July 2022.

His career spans the hospitality and gaming industries including retail and manufacturing. He has successfully assisted with the opening and repositioning of various hotels, resorts, and casinos across the world as an Executive Manager. He is currently CEO of the Aria International Group (Botswana). His management experience has covered properties such as Sun City Resort, Carnival City, The Carousel and The Regency Casino in Greece (largest casino in Europe) as well as working with Disney and doing management training in resorts in Panama and the Bahamas.

Riaan has a BA Degree in Psychology, a Master's in Business Leadership and various diplomas and certificates in his related industry. He is a Board member of the Management College of South Africa (MANCOSA) as well as an external examiner for the University of Pretoria for Honours and Master's degree students.

Riaan believes his core competencies and strengths are strategic planning, establishing and repositioning businesses using marketing and brand initiatives. He is a change agent and has solid business and financial acumen.

In Riaan's words, "it is an honour to be involved with the Grand Old Lady called Dainfern. She has set standards in estate living in South Africa for such a long time and has always been the one against which all others were measured. Unfortunately, time has taken its toll and together we need to get her back to the vibrant and fun-loving place we call home. With the support of all the members and residents of the DHA, I am looking forward to an exciting phase in the Dainfern Biography we are all writing."

We are very excited to welcome Riaan and wish him many happy and successful years here with us at Dainfern Golf Estate.

The Board of Directors would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr Peet Trollip for being the Interim General Manager. Peet took up this role without hesitation in addition to his existing role of Security Manager.

During the past few months, Peet has made a significant contribution and worked tirelessly in this position. In recognition of his commitment, the Board have decided to put him on a development and mentorship programme under the guidance of Riaan. Once Peet has the necessary skills, the intention is for him to take over the role of General Manager in the medium term. As from 1 July 2022, Peet will be the Chief Operating Officer.

We ask all members and residents to support both Riaan and Peet in their new roles.

BAGS OF ♥ Community Outreach

in the Dainfern Community

Gogos Feel The Love!

MaDD team and BAGS OF ♥ embarked on a collaborative initiative to spoil 70 grannies in the Thabo Mbeki informal settlement! "Adopt a Gran" was a real treat for each elderly lady who received a bag filled with toiletries, a warm hat and some food. Gently worn clothing was also donated!

Each month, 10 different Gogos attend monthly conservation educational camps at Koru Camp, for Elephants Alive in Limpopo. They each receive brand new bags filled with toiletries, a warm hat, chocolate and snack bar from BAGS OF ♥ to enhance their experiences. Many a tear is shed in gratitude when they're received.

We look forward to the continued support of toiletries for these ladies who come from impoverished backgrounds. Each Wednesday is Donation Day in Dainfern!

VIDEO LINK 2: Women & Children place of safety

Spreading the warmth!

BAGS OF ♥ received 20 blankets from Rotary plus several beanies for adults from Karen Gianopolous and for babies from Ingrid Conroy. These have been distributed to various communities including three families who have lost everything when their shacks burned down in neighbouring Diepsloot.

A substantial amount of clothing, cash, bedding and baby goods were donated to a destitute family headed by a desperate man who was on the verge of suicide as he can no longer financially support his wife and 17th month old child. They were incredibly grateful and send their heartfelt thanks to the Dainfern community.

MaDD about upgrading lives!

For the past 8 years, FOD (Friends of Dainfern - a group of expats) have embarked upon several projects to enhance the lives of families in impoverished communities.

This year, they began the daunting task of making safe a building which houses 30 children daily at Thlakanang pre-school.

At the beginning of this year, the creche was in a state of disrepair and unhygienic conditions prevailed, plus a decayed roof which was falling onto the children, plagued the staff and little ones.

FOD teamed up with the MaDD ladies to raise money for the project and through two successful "MaDD About Cooking" events, were able to build a solid new roof and brand new walls which were painted with happy bright colours. The next phase will be to upgrade the ablution facilities to a functional standard. MaDD and FOD thank everyone who has attended these events, making it possible to enrich the lives of those less fortunate than ourselves.

Keep them safe & warm!

We were blessed to receive several bags of toys, childrens books and puzzles, toiletries, plus clothing for little ones and adults which were taken to a place of safety in Rodeoport, where mothers and children escape to from abusive situations. Food is always on their wish list as they have increasing numbers of GBV cases arriving daily.

You can deliver to BAGS OF ♥ at 1361 Woodgreen Way, Highgate West each Wednesday between 8.30am and 11.00am.

Since starting up Dainfern Connect, we have been approached by many parents of adolescents who have expressed an interest (some desperate!) in meeting up on a regular basis with others to discuss challenges/ joys/concerns/tips/successes/mysteries associated with bringing up adolescents.

So, we are putting together a group just for you! To kick off, you're invited to a relaxed evening to recap information about Dainfern Connect's offering as well as treat you to conversations with two inspiring speakers. Remember - there is no stigma attached to reaching out to live your best lives!

Youth circles and more at DAINFERN CONNECT!

Remember that each Saturday at 11.30am, Youth Circles are held for teens at the Clubhouse. The founder of 1000 Circles, Bongile Mkhumbeni facilitates groups of adolescents in Dainfern, providing a confidential safe place in which they can talk about life. These sessions are generously funded by Brenchurst Wealth and at no charge.

Dr Natalie Cordeiro, part of the Dainfern Connect team, provides pro-bono sessions for teens to focus on self-esteem Monday - Thursday at 4.30pm at her rooms in Mulberry Hill. To book an appointment, call 083 464 8478.

TEACHING TECH IN THE JUNIOR PREP

For the past 25 years Dainfern College has been at the forefront of innovative teaching, deeply committed to equipping students with all the skills needed to thrive in a 21st Century environment. It is thus no surprise that Dainfern College was the first school in Africa to be recognised as a Google Reference School, due to its outstanding use of technology to drive positive learning outcomes.

Dainfern College was the first school in South Africa to incorporate the Mighty Minds curriculum into its offering, opening a Creativity Centre in 2000 built around the Lego Dacta education kits. This innovative way of teaching robotics and technology soon paid dividends but staff realised that technology needed to be incorporated across the curriculum, rather than taught as a single learning area. Again, the College led from the front, introducing iPads as classroom teaching and learning tools in 2010 and instituting a Bring Your Own Device policy in 2013 to ensure students could access the wide array of online resources for teachers and children.

With technology now an integral part of every learning area as well as our everyday lives, Dainfern College ensures that each student is given a strong foundation of technical skills and competencies right from Grade 0. Technology teaching in the Junior Preparatory at Dainfern College is thus intentionally broken into six strands:

DefineIT: The basics of using computers & the Internet

Access to a mix of iPads and Chromebooks ensures that students are not learning skills in a vacuum but are able to transfer these skills across devices and platforms. The Google Workspace for Education suite of products is used, alongside educational resources like Purple Mash, Soundtrap and Bookcreator, to ensure that students are agile enough to adapt their learning to suit new environments.

DeduceIT: Analytical & innovative thinking skills

Drones and robots such as Coderpillar, Botley and Maze Blocks are used by students to work their way through their thinking. Problem solving is enhanced through the use of inquiry-based learning, where students find answers to their own questions, strongly supported by technology and research.

DigitiseIT: Information storage & access to information

From Grade 2 students start to use Google Drive as a way to store and share information and work, alongside the work management platform, Google Classroom. They learn how to organise and then submit work, how to see their teacher's feedback and then how to share these artefacts with their parents and family by email and direct links.

DebateIT: Communication, collaboration & discussion

Children are encouraged to listen to each other carefully, understand different points of view and, if they feel it is necessary, respectfully disagree and add their own thoughts to the discussion. Technologies such as the video-based feedback platform, Flipgrid, and text-based platform Padlet, allow every student to have a voice in every discussion.

DeliberateIT: Digital citizenship for global citizenship

Students are taught safety and security through the learning of responsible behaviours online using products like Interland by Google and Commonsense Edu. Children are encouraged to take responsibility for their behaviour online, with a strong focus on being kind.

DecipherIT: Coding & computer programming

Coding at Dainfern College starts with body coding in Grade 0 before starting to experience robotics activities. The Grade 3s use Purple Mash or Scratch to learn block code and the pattern of coding loops and functions. Every student from Grade 0 to 3 spends time using the different coding platforms.

A Tech Hub is currently being planned for the Junior Preparatory to reinforce current learning and create more opportunities for students to create with and use technology such as 3D printing, laser cutting and robots. This space, and the larger 'Makerspace' being developed around the College Media Centre, will give all students at Dainfern College further access to the latest technological resources to ensure that they leave school with all the skills needed to be true citizens of the world.

To learn more about integrating technology into your children's learning, contact Mr Anthony Egbers at aegbers@dainferncollege.co.za or email enrol@dainferncollege.co.za to arrange a visit to the school.

Reflexology

Foot Chart

Reflexology is a treatment that deals with the certainty that there are reflexes on the hands and feet that are connected to all glands, organs and system of the body. Reflexology is an exclusive science of using a thumb and finger technique on these reflex areas and once stimulated can bring the body back into balance.

The main aim of the treatment is to balance a system in a diseased state by releasing energy blockages and toxins, improving blood and nerve supply. This promotes healing and optimal health on an emotional and physical level. Reflexology is for any age from babies to the elderly - male and female.

Reflexology: Relieves stress and tension • Improves blood and nerve supply

Try and find the Reason

Southern Boubou

Last year in July I had a visitor from England staying with me and took him to the Walter Susulu Gardens to see the wonderful display of aloes in full bloom. As we passed a forest area we heard the call of a Southern Boubou and my friend grabbed his camera and disappeared into the bush. Not wanting to spoil his chances of getting a good photograph I walked on and met him later when he proudly showed me his Southern Boubou. Only it was not a Southern Boubou but a female Cape Rock Thrush. Obviously he was disappointed but fortunately I was able to show him what it really looked like. In my garden where it visited a bone meal feeder!

Glossy Ibis

Two years ago the Glossy Ibis was very common in Dainfern. We could see them from the club house on the other side of the river and on bird walks near the three dams. I have not seen them for quite some time now and would appreciate it very much if any one who saw it in or near Dainfern would let me know. Birds that are not seen are just as important as birds that are seen regularly. If they suddenly seem to vanish we must try and find the reason.

Migrating Birds

Last year I was in the Western Cape and was very disappointed visiting the areas that normally had lots of Migratory waders. The Knysna lagoon, Langebaan, Rocher Pan and Lambert's Bay where normally during September there were always large flocks of Sandpipers,

Glossy Ibis

Curlews and Whimbrels, there were now only empty pans. Of course these birds experience tremendous dangers on their way across the Mediterranean where traditionally "sportsmen" on the islands like Malta shoot as many migrants as possible.

But one of the main reasons for the numbers of migratory birds obviously becoming less is that as soon as they cross the Mediterranean they need to replenish. To rest and

*"No bird soars too high,
if he soars with his own wings."*

- William Blake

to be strong for the rest of the way to South Africa. They need large pans with fresh water where insects breed and provide food. Unfortunately many of these pans have dried up or have been replaced by large buildings.

Lots of birds die here or are too weak to continue on the long flight and get caught by predators on the way.

A few years ago we could see enormous flocks of European Starlings getting ready for their annual migration. Between Dainfern and Blairgowrie these flocks of 100 or more could be seen resting on telephone wires. But where are they today? Every night these swallows would gather at a specific place where there was a large reedbed and they would spend the night there. Every year the Witwatersrand Bird Club would find out exactly where there was a roosting place like that and volunteers would go out, put up long mistnets and catch these swallows and ring them.

It was not unusual for them to catch and ring 300 or 500 swallows in one night. Amongst them would be birds that had been ringed in England and as far as Siberia and Russia. It was always interesting. I often took quite a few colleagues of mine out to help with the ringing and they enjoyed it thoroughly.

But now we no longer see these birds. The telephone wires are empty and we may see here and there small flocks of swallows but nothing like the enormous flocks of 20 or 30 years ago.

GARDENING

Turfnet • 073 935 9754 / 011 469 5051/4

Mid Winter Gardening Checklist

- Fix uneven and worn out garden paths.
- Paint your garden gates a new colour.
- Lavish a new coat of paint on your trusty old wheelbarrow to prevent rust. It is an expensive piece of garden equipment to replace.
- Have your lawnmower and weed eater serviced.
- Sharpen (or have sharpened) all pruners, loppers, and hedge cutters.
- Repair retaining walls and fill the cavities of those built with custom-made retaining blocks with fresh soil mixed with compost and bone meal to be ready for holding new cascading and ground covering plants.

Plant & Sow

- Ferns are not only trendy but have great air-purifying benefits too. Plant some easy-to-grow species in your garden or in pots, such as the dainty maidenhair, striking yellow sword fern, tough holly fern and evergreen leatherleaf fern varieties.
- Plant colourful flowers in your garden, such as pansies, violas, snapdragons, calendula, primulas and gazanias.
- There's still time to sow late plantings of green peas, lettuce, spinach, cabbage and carrots.

Prune & Trim

- July is a great time to remove any deadwood, leaves and diseased branches.
- Pinch off faded flowers from winter-flowering annuals such as pansies, violas and poppies.
- When pruning hydrangeas, remove all damaged, diseased or dead growth. Cut back the stems above thick, round, green buds.
- Pruning roses encourages bigger, better blooms. Mid-July to mid-August is a good time to prune hybrid roses, tea roses and miniature roses. Water once a week now to allow them to rest. Seal cuts thicker than a pencil with Steriseal and spray with Lime Sulphur.
- Cut back trees that are getting too big.

Expert Tips

- To encourage continued flowering all through winter and into spring, plant stocks and Iceland poppies.
- To keep your vegetable garden healthy and strong, continue to water deeply once a week.

Tawny-flanked Prinia

Prinia subflava

During a recent bird walk in the estate we came across this small bird in some rank growth and that prompted me to consider it as the featured bird of the month. An ever-present species throughout the year, the Tawny-flanked Prinia is an obvious but cryptically plumaged bird that can be overlooked unless you know how to identify it and understand its habits and behaviour.

It is usually the call that first draws attention, as at first sight this is an unremarkable bird species to look at that very often will blend into the grasses and bushes that you find it in. When taking a closer look, you will notice that there is a definite eye stripe, a greyish cap and white throat and breast, while the flanks and vent are a warm buff colour. It is this buff colouration that leads to the Latin name of subflava meaning "almost yellow" and is how the English name of "tawnyflanked" came about, an accurate enough if somewhat unimaginative description. The sexes are alike in size and plumage colouration.

Tawny-flanked Prinias are common residents, usually seen in pairs or small family groups in among the long grass but also in small bushes, especially along watercourses. They will frequently come into gardens where they will forage low down in shrubs or grasses, but are also found in trees, particularly during the dry season. They are usually tame, being lively and active, and can typically be seen clinging to a long grass stem, calling constantly, while wagging their tails up and down. The call consists of fairly shrill notes that are rapidly repeated. They are insectivorous although they will take nectar from aloes that may be in flower.

The breeding season is from September to March. The birds build a thin-walled oval nest with a side-topped entrance which is lined with woven, narrow, green grass blades which when dry is firm and brown. Usually three to four variably coloured eggs are laid. Incubation is 13 to 14 days and the chicks are nestlings for a further 14 to 15 days.

This bird is doing relatively well in the Dainfern environment and with the undergrowth and natural areas that we have it should continue to thrive. It is a lively and regular bird to find in amongst the great diversity of bird species in our estate.

The Southern African Hedgehog

Atelerix frontalis

Sadly we have had a few hedgehogs drown in swimming pools on the estate.

Please keep an eye out on these little creatures that can keep pests away from your garden.

The South African Hedgehog (Atelerix frontalis) is a species of mammal in the family Erinaceidae. It is found in Angola, Botswana, Lesotho, Namibia, South Africa, Tanzania and Zimbabwe.

Description

Their bodies are covered by sharp spines. The average mass of a fully grown male is 350g. The main colour is brown but there are other colours too. A Southern African hedgehog is covered with spines all over its body except for its face, belly and ears, and these spines are made of keratin protein with a hollow shaft and a muscle for each spine. These unprotected body parts are covered with fur. They are dark brown and their spines are typically white at the base and dark brown at the tip. They have pointed snouts and typically have either a white or brown belly. The average length of the hedgehog is approximately 20 cm. The main characteristic of this type of hedgehog is that they have a white stripe across their forehead, typically, traveling from one leg to the other.

Behaviour

The Southern African hedgehog is said to be a slow mover; however, when threatened, it can move surprisingly fast at 6 to 7 kilometers/hour. During the day, they typically stay where they live, which is an area that is covered with vegetation or in a hole in the ground. When the hedgehog rests, it curls up into a ball. Night time is when the hedgehog forages for food, making it nocturnal. The Southern African hedgehog hibernates during the winter and studies show that heterothermy helps keep the energy balance for this species during winter.

Defences

Their protective mechanism is to curl into a ball when threatened. This, however, is not always enough defence against the powerful claws and hard feet of predatory birds, such as owls.

Diet

The Southern African hedgehog is insectivorous, with a wild specimen's diet consisting mainly of earthworms and crickets. However, the South African hedgehog has evolved to become mostly omnivorous due to habitat loss and trash from human civilization being readily available. The Southern African hedgehog is an omnivore and its diet typically consists of invertebrates, including beetles, grasshoppers, and slugs. They also eat small vertebrates including frogs and lizards. Since the hedgehog is known to frequent gardens, dog food has become another staple to their diet. Due to the fact that water is so scarce in the regions that the hedgehog lives, these hedgehogs are not reliant on free water and instead obtain most of their water through the food that they eat. Additionally, in one night of foraging, the hedgehog can eat about 30% of its bodyweight. Also, because hedgehogs go into hibernation, they must weigh at least 500g in order to survive.

Habitat

Southern African hedgehogs are nocturnal. Although these hedgehogs can be found in most environments, they prefer grass and Bushveld that is not too damp and with a good covering of leaves and other debris. They will spend most of the day underneath this cover of leaves or under bushes and in holes; only coming out at night to feed. Sleeping places are changed daily with only some wintering and breeding nests being semi-permanent.

Living hedgehogs are useful to humans and many human practices are beneficial to hedgehogs. Many of these hedgehogs live in suburban gardens in areas of southern Africa where they are beneficial to humans through eating some of the pests that can hurt crops in peoples gardens.
