HEARTFELT CONDOLENCES

On Saturday 23 July 2022 we said goodbye to one of our favourite security personnel, Shadrack Maduna.

'Shaddy' as he was fondly known, was always a smiling and welcoming personality whilst he was on duty. He worked here on the Estate with us for the past 8 years and with Fidelity Security Services for the past 14 years. Shadrack leaves behind his wife and four children. We send our sincerest condolences to his family at this very sad time. We will remember you fondly Shaddy.

Mrs Beryl Pollard

We send our condolences to the Pollard family on the passing of their Mom, Mrs Beryl Pollard. She celebrated an incredible 104 years and we were fortunate enough to share her 100th birthday whilst she was still living on the Estate with her son, Russell. We will keep you all in our thoughts and prayers at this time.

DNA Newsletter

Congratulations!

By Tony Border

Past DNA committee member and writer of the In Focus "On the Stoep"

When my time of writing the newsletter in the Dainfern In Focus came to an end, I never thought I would be putting pen to paper again! But publisher and resident of the Estate Colleen, ever persuasive, has enticed me out of retirement to celebrate 20 years of this wonderful community magazine. This is a remarkable milestone.

In the early days the Nature Trust, as it was called before being correctly named the Dainfern Nature Association, began working towards creating trails, planting trees and maintaining the beautiful natural areas of the Estate and, at this stage, the only way of communicating with residents was a simple A4 piece of paper. Enter Colleen Kreser in 2002 and the glossy delightful, and useful, In Focus magazine was born. What a revelation so congratulations, and a large dose of admiration, is due to Colleen for her challenging work over these last twenty years. In Focus is a great mix of news and useful information and keeping up with the times has become an interactive digital online magazine.

Not only was a much-loved magazine created but currently over R2m has been raised for the Association to make it possible to continue to enhance, maintain and beautify the Estate.

Colleen, it was a great pleasure to work with you over many years and I salute your wonderful contribution to the Estate and your team!

Well done!

COMPETITION

WIN

A TWO NIGHT STAY FOR TWO

In CELEBRATION of the 20th ANNIVERSARY of the Dainfern In Focus magazine, the Dainfern Nature Association in conjunction with the Cavern Drakensberg Resort & Spa are delighted to run a competition. The lucky resident will WIN A TWO NIGHT STAY FOR TWO in this beautiful resort. Turn to page 25 to enter!

We appeal to residents to be aware that fishing lines, string, wires and plastic bags can cause terrible suffering to our wildlife and birds. Please dispose of carefully.

This beautiful Goliath Heron was photographed recently. "What an amazing sighting for the Estate" our bird guru André Marx said. The Goliath Heron is the world's largest living Heron. Thank you to Sharon van Aswegen for this rare and wonderful sighting.

DNA Paradise Fly Catcher Trophy

The Dainfern Nature Association awards this beautiful trophy to a person who has performed an outstanding task in supporting the wildlife, plant life, bird life & community on the Estate. The DNA trophy has an honoured place at the entrance to the Clubhouse within the glass cabinet for all to view. Nominees are welcomed throughout the year.

Maintenance

At this stage no new projects will start as the Dainfern Nature Team are catching up with maintenance in the nature areas before summer arrives.

Residents Classified Listings

We offer a service to the residents. Please send your listing to Colleen by 20th of each month. Stand number and ID number are required for employment classifieds - limited to 30 words of written copy.

Birds and Beasties

It was with sadness to see a Heron hanging up side down on a tree in Combretum Trail. It looked as if it was tangled in fishing wire or similar. One of the committee members went to look and was unable to locate it. Perhaps someone has more information.

A Chat with Brenda,

This month I wish to bring to the attention of homeowners The Spatial Planning and Land Use Management Act, aka SPLUMA. This act will be passed in the foreseeable future which will have ramifications for all homeowners, particularly sellers. Non-approved plans may actually be viewed as a defect in the property. Therefore, it is strongly advised that homeowners considering selling their homes to obtain municipal approved plans which will be required in order to register transfer of the property.

I believe it is important for potential sellers to be aware of this in advance of it becoming a legal requirement. At present, the Dainfern Estate office holds plans that were approved by the Architectural Review Committee. Few owners have municipal approved plans on record, and these are not often available through the original architect's office. Owners will need to obtain a copy of municipal approved plans in order to comply with regulations.

In addition some homes were not built strictly in accordance with the original plans and, in this instance, it will be necessary to employ a professional to redraw the property "as built" and have them approved by council.

Should you have any questions or concerns about how SPLUMA will affect you, please do not hesitate to call me on 083 251 4452.

Fantastic Fridaze

July has been a month of activity starting with our Fantastic Fridaze on 1 July at the Clubhouse. It was well supported, and a lot of fun was had by all who attended. Even though it was a cold evening, the music, food and entertainment ensured that everyone enjoyed themselves. Congratulations to Gary Cummings who won a bottle of Bellingham and the lucky draw of R6 000, as well as Natalie Beveridge who won the R1 000 SIX33 voucher on the night. We look forward to this monthly event which takes place on the first Friday of every month.

Tennis Inc

Tennis Inc hosted their Wimbledon weekend on 2 and 3 July where they converted the pavilion field into grass tennis courts. Juniors and adults enjoyed two days of tennis – Wimbledon Style – and even had strawberries and cream and cucumber sandwiches. Everyone dressed in white and had a superb tennis experience.

#Estate Challenge

ANIMATED GALLERY

Mandela Day was hosted on Monday 18 July with an exciting #Estate Challenge hosted by Stratdigi. Fourways Gardens, Cedar Lakes and Dainfern Golf Estate entered a challenge to see who could pack the most Jars of Hope to win the Trophy for 'Estate of Hope 2022'. We are proud to say that we are tie with Fourways Gardens. Each Estate will be allocated R5 000 to donate to the charity of their choice and will share the Trophy for six months each. We are thrilled to have assisted packing over 3 000 jars to feed 12 000 people. Thank you to everyone who prepared, planned, organised, sponsored, supported, cleaned, and packed on the day. Dainfern is certainly an Estate that truly cares! Teamwork makes the dream work!

Thank you to Peet Trollip

I would like to thank Peet Trollip for being the Interim General Manager over the past few months. Peet has done a phenomenal job in addition to his existing role of being the Security Manager too. I congratulate him on his appointment as the COO and look forward to working closely with him.

New Director of Golf

We said farewell to Tim Steynberg at the end of June as he looked at broadening his horizons and we welcomed Dean Kupferman as our new Director of Golf. We are thrilled to have Dean onboard, as many of you would know him from the Pro Shop where he previously worked for Global Golf. Dean is a PGA Professional and has a wealth of experience. We wish him everything of the best in his new role.

A Clear Directive from the Board

I have been here for a month already and am very excited to have joined the Dainfern family. I have a clear directive from the Board and am working hard with my team to ensure the smooth running of this beautiful Estate.

Divorce Transfers

When it comes to a divorce transfer, it must be mentioned in the settlement agreement who is entitled to the property / the half share of the property. If there was no mention made of the transfer of the property and the half share in the agreement, then a normal transfer will occur, and full costs will be charged.

In this regard, we will discuss transfers that occur when the parties are married in community of property and out of community of property.

In community of property:

With regards to a divorce between parties that were married in community of property, the half share transfer will take place by way of an application. The application is an endorsement which is lodged in the deed's office with all the relevant supporting documentation such as:

- Rates clearance certificate
- Application in terms of Section 45 bis(1)(a)
- Transfer Duty Exemption receipt
- Divorce Decree and Divorce settlement

If the divorce settlement agreement is lost and the court has also lost their copy, a new settlement agreement must be lodged.

Should the parties have a bond registered over the property, they will have to sign a substitution of debtor with the banks, in order for the party, that was nominated in terms of the settlement agreement, to take over the monthly bond repayments.

Out of community of property:

Should the parties be married out of community of property, the property will be transferred as a normal transfer, however, the nominated party will be exempt from paying transfer duty.

If there is a current bond registered over the property, the bond will have to be cancelled and a new bond will have to be obtained in favour of the nominated party.

Riche attorneys Inc attends to all types of transfers. Should you have any questions relating to the above, we will happily assist you.

The most popular Living Room Colours of 2022 - is yours up there

There are some old favourites, and a few surprising entries.

Green, grey, and navy are the most popular living room colours for 2022. New research has found that we are making bolder choices in our living spaces, embracing bright and rich shades, as well as some more unexpected colours.

It is no surprise that the ever-popular grey came in second place, whilst three shades of versatile blue appeared on the list. Classic cream and white proved less popular in 2022, in favour of more cheerful pinks and yellows.

Green is the colour of 2022, taking the number one spot as the most searched for living room colour. The rising popularity of green, both in the worlds of fashion and interiors, was predicted pre-2021, as trends generally began to lean more towards a natural look. We think the rise of green interiors is to do with more people wanting to bring the outside into their homes.

Combining textures will be key to creating an interesting interior this year. We are far more confident with how we mix velvets and weaves – plush chenille scatters on breathable linen sofas give great depth to any room.

decorators are subtly blending green and natural tones into their interiors through the use of plants, timber, and terracotta.

2. GREY - Grey is an incredibly versatile colour, forming an ideal base from which to expand your palette.

3. NAVY - Different shades of blue appeared three times in the list, with a deep and inky navy proving most popular. Muted blues complement a greater range of colours and create a more soothing mood.

4. TEAL - Green-toned blues offer a bit more warmth than mid or light blues, an effect that can be further pronounced with the use of burnt orange or shades of reds.

5. BLUE - The popularity of blue interiors is linked to people wanting to bring more hints of the natural world into their homes. Blue is a calming and tranquil colour, perfect for deep thought and introspection.

6. BLACK - Despite being one of the boldest of design decisions, black living rooms proved more popular than classic white or cream in 2022.

7. WHITE - A much-maligned colour for parents and pet owners, but one that is hard to beat in a country living room.

8. PINK - A surprising eighth place, pinks require a keen design eye to avoid a sickly-sweet outcome.

9. CREAM - Classic cream came in ninth place, indicative of a move away from neutrals.

10. YELLOW - The most cheerful choice in the top ten, and a deceptively versatile one. Cooler variants of yellow with undertones of green look fresh and citrusy.

BUSINESSES AND FOURWAYS RESIDENTS JOIN HANDS
FOR MANDELA DAY INITIATIVE

This Mandela Day, 18 July 2022, saw the launch of a new initiative whereby residents of three estates in Fourways: Cedar Lake, Fourways Gardens, and Dainfern Golf Estate, spent their 67 minutes helping the less fortunate - at the most basic level - filling an empty belly.

The neighbourhood was buzzing with good will, as participants in each estate gathered to assemble the ingredients for a nourishing meal. The businesses sponsoring the event provided jars, packing equipment and soup ingredients to fill 3000 “Jars of Hope” - each jar will provide a hot meal for four homeless and desperate people.

According to event organiser and co-sponsor, Sara Laval – owner of Stratdigi, a marketing agency in Fourways - many people want to help, but are often not sure how they can best contribute. Residents were encouraged to get their family and friends to join in the effort to win the floating “Estate of Hope” trophy, awarded to the estate that packed their jar quota the quickest, which promoted teamwork and a general awareness for those who are struggling to survive the Winter.

We hope to go bigger and better in 2023!

The registration fees received will be split between Dainfern Golf Estate and Fourways Gardens who came tie on the day. Each winning estate will get to donate R5000 to a charity of their choice. The 3000 “Jars of Hope” will be distributed by three selected charities – Doorway to Dignity, One Small Act of Kindness and People 4 Purpose. They all have structured feeding schemes in Fourways and surrounding suburbs.

Co-Sponsor, Austen Morris Associates, said “we support this initiative as there has never been a greater need to help people who are experiencing unprecedented difficulties caused by events beyond their control.”

Co-Sponsor, Logitech, said “supporting local communities is true to Logitech’s core business values. We feel proud to be associated with this event, being able to make a difference to 12 000 people.”

We were overwhelmed by the support from all three estates. This Mandela Day brought young and old together within the Dainfern Golf Estate community, and gave the residents an opportunity to interact and all work together for a good cause.

With the benchmark set, everybody is looking forward to next year’s event.

Donations Received

The coldest month of the year which is also Nelson Mandela's birthday month brought us over 350 blankets which were distributed as and when received. This followed our call for 67 blankets by the 18th July – but that was exceeded before Mandela Day. We also received beautiful beanies and scarves from a couple of regular donors on the esate - and we were delighted to be able to make so many people warmer!

We came to the rescue of three families who lost everything in shack fires, to a small family who had become destitute over the past year and helped avert a suicide by the father who could no longer bear the burden of guilt and dignity loss by not being able to provide for his wife and baby girl. We provide financial assistance, baby clothes and food and items for the father to sell – and they are now on the road to a more balanced life. Another sad case was a domestic worker in Dainfern who was robbed of absolutely everything when her home in Cosmo City was broken into. Together with others, we were able to provide some clothing, bedding, towels and toiletries.

Items received:

- 11 plastic jerry cans
- Embroidery and tapestry kits
- Knitting needles and crochet hooks & wool
- A Photocopier
- Loads of baby and adult clothing & shoes
- Kitchenware, crockery and glassware
- Dog and cat beds and accessories
- Dress-up clothing, bedding and nursery school books.

Generous Sponsors

Thanks to our very generous sponsors (who pay for the monthly groceries for a creche we support in Thabo Mbeki informal settlement), the Singh family also personally mended the main structure covering the aftercare and paid for a new Zozo hut and floor installation. This much-needed upgrade was called for by the Dept of Health and has provided an office space plus mew insulation room for unwell toddlers.

Mandela Day Marathon

For the Mandela Day marathon in Diepsloot organised by the Ikemeleng Foundation, we received 60 pairs of new socks for entrants as well as 100 bottles of water and four large garden umbrellas which provided shade at the water points. The water, umbrellas and a desk were donated by Michelle of Ayni Marketing.

The Big Surprise

A friend of mine in Durban sent me these photographs she took in her garden. Mostly birds we won't see in our gardens.

The biggest surprise was at her swimming pool! For this you must go to my video link.

August Gardening Tips

Windy August is not a hot favourite amongst gardeners. It will be miserably cold, windy, and dry. But take heart! The promise of spring, with the sweet scent of jasmine, is already in the air.

Your main job this month is to:

Get the soil into prime planting condition by adding copious amounts of compost to new and planted beds. Do not dig it in, you will just encourage dormant weeds to germinate. Spread it out in a thick layer on top of the soil and around the root area (not against the stems of plants) and rake it level.

- Pruning: Do not be tempted to prune frost-damaged plants just yet, even if they look sad. Pruning now will encourage soft new growth that will be killed off by late frost.
- After scarifying the lawns by cutting low, spiking, feeding and topdressing around the end of August, also repair ragged lawn edges as they are easier to trim if neat. Do this by laying new sods or pieces from a healthy patch of the lawn on a bed of fine compost and make level with the existing lawn.
- For something light and fresh, start planting different salad varieties. You can also be very fashionable by planting a variety of salad types in pots or wooden boxes.
- Sow some nasturtium seeds between the leafy stuff — the flowers and leaves are edible and great for salads. The plants are known as great companions that will keep pests like aphids away.

An edible sowing guide for August in temperate areas of the Highveld includes nasturtiums, Italian parsley, spinach, Swiss chard, lettuce, rocket, carrots, beetroot, radish, beans, sweet peppers, tomatoes, and celery. Follow the instructions on the seed packets, as those first sown in seed trays will have to be protected from cold snaps.

August is the tail - end of winter and you can start looking at soil preparation of your flower beds by adding organic compost as well as our Vermi-plus (Carbon based fertilizer) which improves your soil structure and conditions it for the summer season ahead.

One must also look at scarifying your lawn by cutting it very short to remove the thatch build up. This process removes all the old dry grass and encourages new shoots to grow. Lawn dress your lawn after scarification with a good weed free lawn dressing to level your lawn areas and encourage quick growth.

Arrow-marked Babbler

Turdoides jardineii

This noisy, gregarious species has a name derived from its plumage, which is brownish-grey above and lighter below, with distinctive white tips to the feathers on the throat, neck and head, giving an “arrow-like” appearance. The bird has a bright red iris with the inner ring of the eye being bright yellow.

It is not regular in Dainfern, but can be found in parts of the Estate in well bushed areas in greenbelts and in adjacent gardens with good cover. They live, breed and travel in groups of between 4 and up to 12 birds or so, and are very noisy and active. When they are around, they can't be missed, as they draw attention to themselves with their alarm call which is very characteristic, starting with an individual bird, it swells and grows louder and louder to a deafening crescendo. The call might be confused with the sound of the Green Wood-Hoopoe which is also a babbling sound rising to a crescendo, but the Wood-Hoopoe is less harsh, more like a loud giggling than the Babbler which is really a cackle.

Arrow-marked Babblers feed mainly on invertebrates, doing most of their foraging in groups on the ground and in the undergrowth, flicking through leaf litter and gleaning from leaves and branches. Their diet is variable and includes termites, grasshoppers, moths, ants and caterpillars, as well as plants, seeds and fruits and nectar.

It is a cooperative breeder, building a messy cup of twigs, dry grass, plant stems and leaf petioles lined with finer material. The nest is typically placed in the dense foliage of a tree, bush, pile of driftwood, reedbed or a cavity in a dead tree. Egg-laying season is year-round, peaking around September-April. Usually 3 bright turquoise eggs are laid, which are incubated by all group members for about 13-17 days. The chicks are cared for and protected by all group members, leaving the nest after about 18-21 days. They tend leave earlier if the group size is larger.

With the densification of habitat taking place in parts of Johannesburg this species will undoubtedly be increasing its range and we can expect to see more Arrow-marked Babblers around in time to come.

This is an entertaining and interesting bird and is a superb species to have in our suburban environment. We hope they continue to find Dainfern a welcome home.
